What's Wrong with India, An Indian's Perspective.

OK, I've been hesitant to write this Blog.

My thoughts are Controversial & harsh & call for a lot to change for the "better."

BUT.

(→ As I grow, I realize better for my perspective isn't always the same for others.)

India has to change.

We were the 2nd largest economy almost 200 years ago.

And we were the 2nd largest by a very large margin.

Today we're top 5. Thought to be bad though. Why is there so much disparity? The Quality of Life for someone like "me" is too high; the Cost to the quality of life for someone worse off is too damn high.

As a country — we are lost! There are | 700 motherfuckly! byproges |

like ok cool we're smart enough to Govern multiple langygs in a very small region (comparatively), but gys — The education & standard [of Communication] Depends ON HAVING SET LANGUAGES. (That are adhered to)

→ This is a whole other point! We have rules & regulations — But they are so old!! — And they are not enforced. |

[This topic is so frustrating — Because as a problem solver, who is empathetic to his roots... yeah.].

Ok, so stepping Back from the nus & dhevos (And Emdin)

There are "main" sectors to be fixed
  1. Education. — Solves a lot of societal issues
  2. Infrastructure. — sets a standard of living & care per environment.
  ┌─────────────┐
  │ 3. Wealth   │
  │   Disparity│
  └─────────────┘

OK, 3 main topics to improve, for now; I'm sure as a dive deeper into a problem, more will come.

Education.
  └→ Standards need to be refreshed.
      Teachers need to be trained & given the resources
      Examination Boards Need to be reevaluated.

  └→ · Hops to solve societal issues like gender bend issues
      · Health / Public Health issues!!
      · Better outlook for Population.

[As I write this I am so disvneded, this is a huge task in itself. Steeeng a country is like a huge ship].

[I'm scared, that the changes needed will take too long & never happen]

[I trust in my generation, but I'm worried we'll all burn out like our parents & earn some pie & leve]

[Ok As of 20/10/2024. — This topic is too much too be worried about. I have my own priorities to look after before I can hope to do good for others.
I will revisit it when I can though, it is still close to my "worst" in life.]